Searching the Archive

The system uses a Browse screen function to enable the user to navigate through the archive; once logged into the archive, the main Browse screen will appear, and from this screen the user may select the required section. Easy to use navigation buttons allow the user to quickly switch between the different sections.

The Search facility within the Archive provides the user with the option of entering a specific search query or using the built-in functions provided. The in-built search function provides the user with the ability to search for specific text or items from any combination of the archives, single archive, multiple archives or across the whole archive. Results are displayed as tabular format or thumbnails which may be selected to view the original document or photographic image.

Individual Sections

Registers and Books are split down to Chapters and Pages to enable quick viewing of the files.

The Memorials of The Great War 1914-1919 and the Second World War have been allocated sections for easy viewing. The 'Roll of Honour' is set out in an A - Z system, which enables the user to locate the entries for the fallen quickly and efficiently.
